FEATURED SPEAKERS BIOS

FEATURED SPEAKERS

MARIA HINOJOSA

Mexican-American Journalist

As a reporter who was the first Latina in many newsrooms, Maria Hinojosa dreamt of a space where she could create independent, multimedia journalism that explores and gives a critical voice to the diverse American experience. She made that dream a reality in 2010 when she created Futuro Media, an independent, nonprofit newsroom based in Harlem, NYC with the mission to create multimedia content from a POC perspective. Futuro does this in the service of empowering people to navigate the complexities of an increasingly diverse and connected world. Hinojosa's Pulitzer Prize-winning podcast, "Suave", focuses on her relationship with David Luis "Suave" Gonzalez, in addition to telling the story of thousands of other people sentenced to die in prison for a crime they committed as a minor. "Suave" is gut-wrenching, deeply personal and full of heart.

JONATHAN METZEL

Author, Psychiatrist, and Professor

Jonathan Metzl is an acclaimed physician and sociologist who speaks, teaches, and writes on a range of topics including mental illness and gun violence, race and whiteness in America, health and healthcare, and diversity and structural competency in higher education. Jonathan Metzl is the author of the groundbreaking book, Dying of Whiteness: How the Politics of Racial Resentment is Killing America's Heartland. Winner of the 2020 Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights Book Award, the book is an in-depth look at why many working-class white Americans support politicians whose policies are literally killing them. Being a gun violence expert, professor, and psychiatrist is a unique combination that allows Dr. Metzl to speak and write about gun violence in America, and in particular to address stereotypes that link guns with race or mental illness, or that blame mental illness for mass shootings and other gun crimes.

MARCELLE ALVARADO

Senior Field Rep / Conference Speaker

Marcelle M Alvarado is a labor organizer with 20 years in the movement, fighting for workers' rights across industries. Born and raised in Los Angeles, she is a daughter, caretaker, and mother. She began her journey as a student and community organizer, quickly discovering a passion for union organizing that would shape her career. From service workers and healthcare professionals to long-term care, entertainment, and academic workers, Marcelle has dedicated herself to building worker power and driving transformative change. Her work with SEIU USWW's Justice for Janitors campaign in Los Angeles was instrumental in shaping her organizing philosophy and approach—one rooted in intersectional leadership development, comprehensive strategic organizing, and internal power-building. Committed to strengthening worker-led movements for lasting change, she continues to drive the fight for dignity, equity, and power for all workers.

AARON BARLIN

Equity Conference Committee Member

Aaron Barlin (he/they) is an Organizer within CFA's Anti-Racism and Social Justice (ARSJ) department. That means Aaron is an on-the-ground doer for campuses: he helps members take ARSJ concepts (intersectionality, implicit bias, decolonialize) and turn them into real-world, personally relevant actions (restorative justice, participatory action research, liberatory pedagogy). Applying his experiences as a high school teacher and organizational consultant, Aaron hopes to guide CFA to connect with our inner learners—our inner children—in order to tap into the imaginative powers needed for genuine social transformation.
